RED LAKE.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

UNITED STATES INDIAN FIELD SERVICE

Census
Red Lake Indian Agency
Red Lake, Minn.

July 10, 1923

Commissioner of Indian Affairs,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Commissioner:

There is transmitted herewith original copy of a census of the Red Lake Indians as of June 30, 1923.

In connection with this census the following is called to attention. During the fiscal year 1923 there were seventy births and two enrollments, from which there were twenty-five deaths and one enrolled member dropped, giving a net increase of forty-six, and by birth a net increase of forty-five. Should the rate of increase for a ten year period be the same, the ten year average would run in excess of twenty-eight per cent, which is a figure so high as to be very unusual.

It may be stated that our census is accurate and that the figures quoted are not a matter of guess work. There is no doubt but that the effect of better housing facilities, better home conditions and the operation of a hospital is being felt to a very marked degree in an increased population.

Another factor, I believe is one that nearly always makes itself apparent in any population, and that is this: Where the people are uniformly poor but not poverty stricken and where they are forced to work for a means of livelihood continually or nearly so, the birth rate and number in the family is correspondingly larger. The Office will note that our census bears out this assertion and that families of three, four and five children are the rule and not the exception.

These facts are called to the attention of the Office because of the oft-repeated statement that the Indian population is decreasing.

Very truly yours,

B. W. Dooly
Superintendent.
